

CUBAN WAR NEWS IS INTERESTING

INSURGENTS SAID TO HAVE BEEN DEFEATED.

Another Battle Reported in Which the Government Lost 170 Men—Reinforcements Sent From Spain—France Gives Advice As to the Situation.

Havana, Aug. 27.—According to official advices an engagement between the Spanish troops and the insurgents, lasting an hour and a half, has been fought at Niguera, near Manzanillo, province of Santiago de Cuba. The insurgents are said to have lost fifty killed and wounded, and their leader, Reiter, was wounded in both arms. It is also stated that the insurgent leader, Alonzo Rivero, with 700 men, has arrived in the neighborhood of Niguera.

A column of 300 Spanish troops, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Teruet, recently attacked the insurgent chiefs, Stolo and Angel, who have a following of 150 men, near Doloritas, in the Remedios district, in the province of Santa Clara. The so-called "American Company" of the column charged with the bayonet and captured three insurgent positions. The insurgents lost three killed and the troops captured twelve saddle horses and one prisoner, the father of Angel.

Six railroad bridges in the Tunas district of Santi Espiritu, province of Santa Clara, have been restored. During the attack on the fort at Niguera, the insurgent lieutenant, Magin Perez, was killed. The troops lost two men killed and three wounded.

A column commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Valle, numbering 180 men, has had a skirmish with the insurgent band commanded by Nunez and numbering 370 men. The insurgents are said to have been compelled to abandon the positions which they occupied on Mount Caussito, leaving seven wounded on the field. The official reports say that only two soldiers were wounded during the engagement.

Information received here by the government is to the effect that Roloff has been enforced by 2,000 insurgents in the province of Puerto Principe, and with these and with forces of Sanchez, he is said to be moving upon Santa Clara.

The father of Serafin Sanchez died recently at Santi Espiritu. Col. Copella has arrived from Santiago de Cuba and has appointed chiefs for the battalion of public order and police of Havana.

Upmann, the banker, has advanced the government the sum of $500,000.

GOMEZ WINS A FIGHT.

Wagon Train Captured from the Spanish Escort.

New York, Aug. 27.—Secretary Quesada of the Cuban revolutionary committee received a letter yesterday from Camagney bay, containing information of a battle which had just been fought between a body of Spanish troops and a small force under Gen. Gomez. The letter was dated Aug. 11, and was from Salvador Cisneros, Marquis of Santa Lucia. The Spaniards numbered 1,500 and were commanded by Gen. Mella. They were acting as convoy for a large wagon train loaded with provisions and munitions of war, on the way to the Spanish camp in the interior. The attacking party numbered 900, 500 of whom were cavalry. The wagons were plodding along, when the Cuban cavalry dashed down upon them from the rear. The three hindmost wagons were cut off and captured, with the six mules attached to them. The drivers of the other wagons whipped up the mules and found safety behind the line of Spanish infantry, which was hastily formed to protect them. A sharp fire was kept up between the two forces, the Spaniards falling back slowly until they reached the brow of a small hill, where a stand was taken. Recognizing the advantageous position of the enemy, Gomez withdrew. The Spaniards had 170 men killed in the fight, while the Cuban lost was only three. One of the captured wagons was found to be loaded with army rifles. The letter said that the train of wagons was so harassed by the Cuban troops that it required seven days to make a journey commonly done in two.

Campos Would Resign.

Cadiz, Aug. 27.—The Diario de Avisos, of Corunna, states that the government will relinquish its intention of sending 25,000 additional reinforcements to the island of Cuba in October, and adds that Captain General Martinez de Campos has declared that he will resign if the government insists upon appointing a lieutenant general for the island of Cuba.

Quay Gains a Point.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Senator Quay and his followers made a bold dash in the fight for republican supremacy in this state by taking possession of the state committee yesterday and deposing B. F. Gilkeson from the chairmanship. Their object in doing this was to place themselves in position to prepare the roll of the delegates to Wednesday's convention so that they might appear before that body with a prima-facie case. What the effect of this move will be cannot yet be foretold and the next move of the Hastings people is looked for with great interest. The situation in general is intensely exciting and altogether uncertain. Both factions are claiming victory.

Police Have Little Evidence.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 27.—Assistant County Attorney Peterson admits that the evidence against Mrs. Perkins in the Hawkins murder case is thus far entirely circumstantial, and that she could not have been arrested if it had not been for positive knowledge of her previous criminal career in Minneapolis. The inquest was continued yesterday. Frank, the young son of Mrs. Perkins, was again made to tell the story of how on each of the two nights when the fires occurred he slept down stairs with his clothing on. The state believes that Mrs. Hawkins was slowly being poisoned, and that the fire was thought of to conceal the evidence of it.

Posse Hunts in Vain.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 27.—An elderly white woman, small in stature, shabbily attired, reeled into the office of Sheriff Booker yesterday afternoon and said she had been assaulted by two negroes. She said her name was Zarilda Cook, and that she is 55 years old. She lives at the section house, seven miles west of the city, and at noon, while going to Ferguson's mill, a short distance away, two negroes sprang upon her and knocked her down. A large posse was at once organized and fortified with several bloodhounds left the city for the scene. The sheriff's posse returned at 10 o'clock at night. They failed to find any trace of the negro ravisher.

Arguments in Taylor's Case.

Pierre, S. D., Aug. 27.—The case of South Dakota vs. W. W. Taylor was argued on the habeas corpus proceedings before the state supreme court yesterday. Attorneys for the state contended that the sentence was valid, and if five years' sentence was not valid, but the court exceeded its jurisdiction, then it was invalid only in so much as it exceeded the jurisdiction of the court. The defense contended that the state was a body politic and that there was no law defining as crime the taking of money from the body politic. The general opinion is that the sentence of the lower court will be sustained.

Thrashing Machine Explodes.

Eldora, Ill., Aug. 27.—By the explosion of the boiler of a thrashing machine at Owassa yesterday afternoon two people were killed and a number of others injured. Those killed were: BABCOCK, MONROE, farmer. HOFFMAN, ANNA, daughter of Frank Hoffman.

Several of the thrashing gang were also injured, it is feared, fatally. The engine was an old one and had been declared unsafe and was in the hands of an incompetent fireman.

Smallpox at Eagle Pass.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Aug. 27.—One hundred and sixty-six cases of smallpox and forty-five deaths have occurred up to date among the negro colonists quarantined at Camp Jenner. There are 350 negroes now in camp. No new cases or deaths yesterday. So thorough is the isolation of the camp that little fear of the disease is felt here.

Locked-Up Children Cremated.

Mexia, Tex., Aug. 27.—Three children of Henry Johnson, colored, living in the country, six miles from here, were burned to death in their home last night while their parents were at church.

HORSE THIEF ARRESTED IN RICHLAND CENTER.

Has Been Sought by Minnesota Officers—Green Bay Hack Driver Elopers With a Woman of Prominence—Details of the Big Kenosha Bank Failure.

Richland Center, Aug. 27.—Amos Tobias was arrested last night charged with horse stealing in Minnesota. A reward of $300 was offered for his capture.

Green Bay, Aug. 27.—Frank Fannon, a hack driver and Mrs. Victor Turran, a prominent woman have disappeared. Her husband says they have eloped.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 27.—There were hundreds of people, residents of this city and county, standing yesterday morning before the bank of Dan Head & Co., which suspended at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The directors voted that the bank be placed in the hands of a receiver and that the bank liquidate its indebtedness. Accordingly a petition was drawn up for presentation to the court asking the appointment of George Hale of this city as receiver. Dan Head, the founder of the bank, who is 85 years old, thinks the bank will pay 100 cents on the dollar. Other directors say it will pay 75 cents on the dollar, while many depositors and business men think that 50 cents will be about right. On July 1 the bank had $204,000 in deposits when it closed Saturday it had $150,000, the run having reduced the deposits $54,000.

HELD HIS HEAD UNDER WATER.

Insane Mother Explains a Mad Act in These Words.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 27.—A sad story of a mother's murder of her boy and a subsequent attempt at suicide is reported in a special telegram from Independence.

The wife of James Tetherow, a well-to-do farmer living near the Lackiamite river, arose before the others of the family were awake and, wrapping her 6-year-old boy in a quilt, took him to the river and held his head under water until life was gone. Throwing the body into the river, she returned to the house, awakened her husband and asked him to go for a doctor. The husband put her off and rolled over to go to sleep. The wife again left the house but this time was followed. She went to the river and threw herself in but was quickly rescued, though she fought her rescuers with desperation.

When the boy was missed she told how she had taken him to a "nice bathing pool" and, though he clung to my neck and begged me not to put him in, I held his head under the water." Mrs. Tetherow is thought to be insane.

COPPINGER AT OMAHA.

Work Will Be Rushed on the New Military Road.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 27.—Gen. Coppinger, Major Humphrey and Lieut. Hutcheson arrived yesterday after a month's stay in the Jackson Hole country. Col. Randall and two troops of the Ninth cavalry returned with Gen. Coppinger from Wyoming and are now at Fort Robinson. Gen. Coppinger was reticent in discussing the situation at Jackson's Hole, saying only that when the troops arrived the settlers were very much frightened, were congregated at two points and were sending out scouting parties. The conflict, he said, is between the state laws of Wyoming and the treaty with the United States. The general saw that work on the military road to the Hole country was being pushed before he left that section, as he anticipated further uses for it.

Sensational Trial Begins.

Danville, Ind., Aug. 27.—The trial of the Rev. William E. Hinshaw for the murder of his wife last January begins to-day. More than 100 witnesses have been summoned and the indications are that the trial will consume several weeks. The best criminal lawyers in the state have been engaged in the case. Henry M. Spaan of Indianapolis will assist the prosecuting attorney, and John S. Duncan will assist the defense. The Methodist congregation at Belleville, for which the accused man was preaching at the time of the killing, will stand by him.

No Massacre of Indians.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The report of the killing of fifteen Bannock Indians by cattlemen in the neighborhood of Diamond Valley, Oregon, is not believed at the Indian bureau. Commissioner of Indian Affairs Browning says he believes there is no foundation for the report. He says there is no reservation within 30 miles of the region where the affair is said to have taken place, and that, so far as the Indian office is informed, no Indians were in the vicinity.

THREE ARE MISSING FROM THE PARTY

YACHT RUN DOWN IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Robert W. Inman's Pleasure Boat Suuk and Its Owner Thought to Have Been Drowned—Other Reports Say That All Were Saved by a Passing Schooner.

New York, Aug. 27.—The sloop yacht Adelaide, owned by Robert W. Inman, Jr., the cotton broker, while cruising off Norton's Point last night, was run into by the iron steamer Perseus.

There were aboard Mr. Inman, who is a very well-known yachtsman and club man, with residences in this city and at Cold Spring Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Evans of West 49th street, a Miss Norton, whom Mrs. Evans was chaperoning, and Herbert Dorno, the mate, whose home is in Springfield, Mass. There were a captain and two others in the crew, but Mr. Dorno does not know their names. The Adelaide was keeled over, and at least three persons are known to have gone overboard. Mrs. Evans and Mate Dorno were hauled aboard the Perseus.

The Adelaide righted and eyewitnesses state that as she moved off in the dark the forms of three men could be distinguished on her. Lifeboats were lowered from the Perseus to rescue those who had gone overboard. They returned and reported that an in-bound schooner had picked up a woman and two men from the water. If this is so probably no lives were lost, but the fact remains that up to midnight the relatives and friends of those known to have gone overboard had received no tidings from them, as would have been the case had they been picked up and landed safely.

Mr. Inman, Mr. Evans and Miss Norton are among those not accounted for.

THREE HUNDRED POISONED.

Mysterious Affair at a Lutheran Festival in Indiana.

LaPorte, Ind., Aug. 27.—Three hundred people out of 1,000 in attendance Sunday at a Lutheran mission festival at Tracy, this county, were strangely poisoned. The dinner was served in the open air, and at its conclusion people were seized with severe pains, suffering intensely until violent spells of vomiting afforded relief. In some cases the symptoms of poisoning did not develop until last night, and a number of persons are now reported seriously ill. Entire families were attacked, men, women and children succumbing to the disorder. The cause of the strange malady is not known, though attributed by many to poison believed to have been in the potatoes. The theory of intentional poisoning is not credited.

As yet no one has died, but many are still very ill. Two hundred and fifty were present from this city, and among those most seriously affected were the families of Herman Raddatz, Chris Ebert, Ernest Fickweiler and John Ball.

State Department Not Notified.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The state department has received no advices confirming the Key West dispatch that Sanguilly and Aguerre, Americans being confined at Mora Castle, had been released. It was stated that about eight or ten persons, American citizens, or claiming to be such, were under arrest in Cuba, and that Sanguilly and Aguerre were the most important of the number. These men were to have been tried by the military courts, but, through the intervention of the United States, they were allowed a trial in the civil courts and an opportunity to prove their innocence.

Glass Works Burn in Ohio.

Fostoria, Ohio, Aug. 27.—The Nickel-Plate Glass works, this city, owned by the W. S. Glass company, with headquarters at Pittsburg, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The plant had not been in operation for two years, owing to the strike of the Flint Glass workers. The plant cost about $30,000 to build and was in excellent condition. The loss will be total, as no insurance could be had under the circumstances.

Conference in Omaha Case.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 27.—The three judges of the Supreme court and two court commissioners were in conference yesterday on the Omaha police board case. No action was taken further than to docket the case. The judges will in the meantime pass upon the printed petitions filed by the contending factions, and it is not improbable that a decision may be handed down this week.

Led the Train Robbers.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—At the inquest at McBain yesterday it was proved by Conductor Rice and Detective Jackaway that Smalley, the dead train robber, was not only the murderer of Detective Powers but the leader of the gang. Sheriff McEwen of Ingham county, with a posse, chased a crook named Lou Gregg into a heavy wood near Mason lake yesterday afternoon, and has pickets thrown around it. He is believed to be one of the train robbers. A posse from New Richmond is also after E. Fred Geiser, who gave officers the slip while they were surrounding the house of Farmer Amasa Lyons, but a mile from the scene.

MANY TAXPAYERS HEAR THE REPORT WATER WORKS HISTORY READ TO ALDERMEN.

Three Widely-Varying Figures as to the Cost of the Plant Have Been Made, the Committee Declares, and the Annuling of the Franchise Is Recommended.

Many tax payers gathered in the council chamber last night to hear the report of the special water works committee. The report, as said elsewhere, favors a radical change in the form of legal proceedings against the company. The setting aside of the company's franchise on the ground of false representations is recommended, and after that a consultation with bond holders as to mutual interests.

The report alleges that material used elsewhere was charged here, merely to swell the apparent cost of the Janesville works; that the cost of the works according to the books of the company was less than $125,000; that Turner, Clark & Rawson received but $164,618.35 for the works and for other expenses during four years and claimed to have made a profit; that the works could have been built in 1887 for $123,000 and leave a profit to the builders; that the same works could be built today for $100,000; that Turner, Clark & Rawson actually spent in building the plant but $117,728.68 at the outside.

A statement to bond holders by officers of the company is cited, fixing the value of the plant June 18, 1892, at $150,000. Mention is also made of G. G. Sutherland's refusal to sign the statement that the works cost $432,817.96. The report is as follows:

To the Mayor and Common Council: Your committee, to which was referred the communication of the Janesville Water company presented to the common council of Janesville on April 9, 1895, would respectfully report.

The communication says that the representatives of the Water company, of this city, have visited Chicago, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and other places to collect the vouchers mentioned in the communication, and that their collection involved much time, labor and expense, and that the collection of these vouchers has been the first information to the present owners of the original cost of the plant.

From information received by your committee we doubt the reliability of these statements. We are informed that nearly all of these vouchers mentioned in the communication have been in the city of Janesville, and in the possession of the Water company, for about four years.

We are informed that the owners of the plant on Aug. 3, 1894 (the day on which the original statement of the costs of the works was filed by said company in which the net cost, up to July 1, 1894, is alleged under oath, to be $432,817.96) knew of the existence of these vouchers, and that they were then in the possession of the company, and that all of the owners and members of that company well knew, at that time, that the works cost no such sum of money, as they then alleged, in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

With reference to these vouchers we have no way of verifying them or determining whether the material and work mentioned in them went into the plant in this city. It has been explained to us how these vouchers happened to be here. We also call attention to the fact that in the communication the Water company says that "these bills and invoices are not copies, they are the original ones sent out when the goods were shipped, and sent out in the usual course of business." How could this be if the Water company collected them in Chicago, Cincinnati, etc., this year? How did the original bills become so scattered? We believe that they were here and have been for some years. We believe that they are simply bills made to the Wisconsin Construction Company, and we are satisfied that but part of the material went into the Janesville plant, as we will proceed to show.

We are informed that at about the same time these works were being built by the Wisconsin Construction Company (being to all intents and purposes Turner, Clark & Rawson, and they being the owners of the Janesville Water Company) they were building works in Racine and other places, and that material originally bought for one place was used in another, so that at this time no one would be able to tell which material went into the Janesville plant and which into the other plants.

We are informed that a number of carloads of pipe came to Janesville which did not go into the plant, but was afterwards shipped elsewhere.

We are further confirmed in the belief of the correctness of this proposition by reason of the fact that the books of the Construction Company show large credits to the Janesville Water Company, which must have been for material intended to be used here, but which was afterwards taken away. And we are further confirmed in this belief by the curious fact that in the statement filed on the 8th of April last there are credits to the Racine Company for material used here which came from Racine, but not a single credit to the Janesville Company for material used at Racine.

These illustrations show that with simply a large number of vouchers to go by no satisfactory result can be reached.

To make a voucher of any value it must be known that the material described in it went into the plant, and that we have no way of knowing, and no satisfactory proof is offered to that effect; but, on the other hand, after thorough investigation, we are satisfied that it is impossible that the works could have cost any such sum as alleged in the communication of April 8. We will later call attention to the many proofs against such an alleged cost.

The Water Company says that it could have produced a copy of the books of the Construction Company, showing the cost in detail, but it demanded the vouchers more satisfactory. We must differ with the Water Company in that respect.

It is at the time of the building of the works, the Wisconsin Construction Company kept a detailed account of the cost of these works, would it not have been more satisfactory to produce a copy of these books and the vouchers. If the books then detailed the vouchers the work of comparison could have been easily carried on. But, on the other hand, the books of the Company, in most every instance, differ from the vouchers, which we believe to be the fact, it certainly would tend to show that either or both were wrong, or else that part of the material described in the vouchers must have been used somewhere else.

We have, however, inspected what we believe to be copies of the books of the Wisconsin Construction Company bearing upon the cost of this plant. From these books it is apparent to us that the original cost instead of being $184,534.35 is less than $130,000. Now the books differ from the alleged vouchers, and both differing from the first sworn statement of the water company as to the cost of the works, and they all differing from the other proofs, which we submit hereafter, what is the most reasonable way to determine the correct cost of the works? Is it not to find out from an independent contractor what the works would have cost at the time they were built? We find, taking this as a basis, that at the time these works were built they would have, or should have, cost less than $125,000.

It is apparent to your committee that the cost of these works has been grossly misrepresented to this city with the evident purpose of preventing the city from acquiring the ownership of them. We think it can be readily seen that it would serve no good purpose for this committee to spend a long time in running down three thousand vouchers to their sources and tracing the material and labor to its use. We believe there is a simpler method of arriving at the desired result.

We are informed that in the month of December, 1891, there was outstanding against this plant $164,000 in bonds; that these bonds were sold upon the market on an average of, at least, ten per cent. discount, so that there was realized from the sale of the bonds about $147,000.

We are informed that the $200,000 of capital stock of this Water company was never paid in and, for that matter, not a single dollar of the capital stock of the company was ever paid in; that during the month of December, 1891, this entire $200,000 of stock was sold by Turner, Clark & Rawson to parties residing here for about $5,000. There was no pretense on the part of Turner, Clark & Rawson that they had lost money in the Janesville Water works; on the other hand they claimed a profit from the scheme.

Taking these figures as a basis, and remembering that the works had been maintained from August, 1887, the pipe line extended, the interest on $164,000 bonds at six per cent. paid, and the works completed up to that time, let us see where the money came from to do it with.

Turner, Clark & Rawson had received from the sale of bonds $147,600; from the sale of stock $5,000, and in addition to this had received the income of the works up to December, 1891. Now if this is all the money they received and put into the works it must be conceded that the cost of the works did not go beyond that sum. Let us look at what the income was. Take the sworn statement of the Water company:

Expended from Aug. 6, 1888, to Jan. 1, 1889, above receipts.....	$15,608.77
Total expenses above receipts.....	$18,231.69

It must be understood that these items do not claim to include any interest on the bonds, because the company seeks to charge these two items against the city in addition to interest. That is, these two items must have been for extension of the pipe lines during 1888, 1889 and 1890.

Now let us take the receipts:

From Jan. 1, 1890, to Jan. 1, 1891, received "above the amount" expended.....	$2,053.28
Same from Jan. 1, 1891, to Jan. 1, 1892.....	9,965.07
Total receipts by Turner, Clark & Rawson back from the works above expenditures during 1890 and 1891.....	$12,018.35

The account would stand then as against Turner, Clark & Rawson up to January 1st, 1892, as follows:

Received from sale of bonds.....	$147,600.00
Received from income of works during 1890 and 1891.....	12,018.35
Received from stock.....	5,000.00
Total.....	$164,618.35

This being the total amount that Turner, Clark & Rawson ever received out of these works, and not a dollar of stock ever having been paid in, we cannot see how they could have

ANNUL FRANCHISE WITH NO DELAY

COMMON COUNCIL VOTES FOR SUMMARY ACTION.

Suit to Determine the Cost of the Water Works Plant no Longer Considered Important—All Defective Sidewalks in the City to Be Repaired at Once.

After hearing the four column report from its special committee last night the common council voted to change its plan of action. It was decided to cease trying to prove the cost of the water works but to have the franchise annulled and let any proof that was offered come from the water company. All this was done in the same matter of fact way that a tile culvert was ordered on Dodge street. To be sure Attorney Jeffris and Hyzer told one another that statements had been made which were wholly beyond the pale of truth; and Attorney Hyzer twitted Attorney Jeffris with trying to squeeze a summer vacation down east out of the case. There was more excitement shown over Alderman Winslow's motion to repair some bad sidewalks, however, than there was over the whole water works question.

Some minor business was considered and then Alderman Heddles announced that the water works committee was ready to report. Attorney Jeffris was called upon to read the report which appears in another column.

Alderman Inman arose as the reading of the report was finished and said:

"I move that the report be accepted and that the same committee be continued with power to act for the city, in proceedings to vacate the franchise of the Janesville Water Co. and with power to confer with the bond holders and report to the council."

E. M. Hyzer has a word to say.

Before the motion could be put permission was granted Attorney Hyzer of the water company to speak. Mr. Hyzer had begun an investigation of the cost of the plant as soon as he became connected with the company and every statement made since that time he would swear to. As to those made earlier he, of course, could not say. The vouchers referred to had been discovered accidentally in an old soap box behind the stairway of the office. There were many of them unsigned invoices. Visits had been made to every city from which goods had come and the invoices were checked up by shippers, books and receipts. They included an itemized statement of cost, rebate and discount and if any mistake occurred in the water company's report it lay in those vouchers which were offered for inspection and could be seen easily.

As for the affidavit of B. R. Clark, placing the cost of the water works at $310,000 in 1888, that affidavit was drawn by M. G. Jeffris. Mr. Hyzer believed that what it stated was true, however, and that "according to the books of the Wisconsin Construction Co." $310,000 was the cost of the works.

Vouchers Better Than Books.

The city could have any form of evidence as to the cost of the works it desired. He had presented vouchers rather than a copy of the books of the Wisconsin Construction Company because vouchers could not possibly be manipulated. A stipulation had been made that pending legal action an investigation of the cost of the works should be made by the attorneys in the case—each submitting the facts he developed to the other. The water company had complied with this in good faith but the representatives of the city had made no move toward compliance.

Attorney Jeffris declared that the investigation was to have been a mutual action, whereas the representatives of the water company had acted without the knowledge of any of the city's representatives. As for the invoices mentioned, he was familiar with their history—they were simply every invoice that could be found in Turner, Clark & Rawson's office that had the slightest bearing on the Janesville plant. Every invoice that included even one Janesville item along with items for other towns was included. Again he would urge that the company had forfeited its franchise. The council should declare it vacated instead of carrying on a long action to determine the cost of the works. After setting aside the franchise, the council could build or could buy the old works as seemed advisable.

Mayor Favors Prompt Action.

"In my judgment the city should own the plant," said Mayor Baines, "and I trust that the committee will take action to have the matter settled as soon as possible."

Alderman Inman's motion for proceeding to vacate the franchise was again read and was passed by a vote of 9 to 1, Alderman Winslow being the only alderman to vote no. He declared himself to be in favor of private ownership, but wanted the city to get the plant by an amicable agreement with the company.

On Alderman Burnham's motion, the charter amendment giving Janesville the right to aid a city hospital was given its second reading. Notice was given of an ordinance abolishing the controllership and the board of public works provided for in the portions of the uniform charter now in process of passage. Alderman Burnham also had the street commissioner instructed to clean Second ward gutters. Other orders adopted were:

Alderman Winslow—That the street commissioner examine all sidewalks in the city and make all repairs costing less than one dollar. Where greater repairs are needed owners shall be notified, and if the repair is not made in twenty-four hours, the commissioner shall make it, and charge it against the property. Also, that sidewalks be built in front of lots 14 and 15, block 3, east side of Forest Park boulevard.

Alderman Inman—That the streets of the Third ward be repaved and that the intersection of Main and South Second streets be macadamized.

Alderman Kothman—For block crosswalks across Washington avenue at Locust street; for tile culverts across School street at Lincoln, and across Galena street at Lincoln.

Alderman McLean—To repair the tile culvert at Dodge and Franklin streets.

Buob Bros. Get No License.

Buob Bros. were again disappointed in their effort to secure a retail license for their Main street brewery. The council voted down their application 7 to 3—Aldermen Burnham, Heddles, Hemming, Kothman, McLean, Stearns and Sutherland voting aye and Aldermen Inman, Smith and Winslow voting no.

J. W. Hogan was appointed special police for three months. Paul Olson's protest against an over tax was referred to the finance committee. The report of the water company was referred to the fire and water committee. Notice of the damage suits begun by Patrick Collins and his daughter and by Simeon Gagan and Mary Gagan, were referred to the judiciary committee.

The grading of Fourth avenue between Prospect avenue and Caroline street, was ordered. George Butler's report that Jackson street bridge had been finished, was filed, and the clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Stewart & Cullen for $1,588.16.

MAGNOLIA'S GRAVE STILL A MYSTERY

LETTER SPEAKS OF "DISPOSING OF THE BODY."

"Bury Your Own Close If They Are Bloody," Says the Writer—When the Hole Was Dug Sods Were Cut to Fit Evenly When Refilling.

Magnolia, Aug. 27.—"Is it murder?" is the question which is being asked since the opening of the grave on the Bump farm in Magnolia about one week ago. The completed grave was first discovered with a pick and spade lying beside it the sods cut in squares to fit back in place perfectly. Last Thursday afternoon three of the nearest neighbors went to take a look at the grave and found the night before it had been filled up the sod filled in place and leaves strewn on top. They went to work and opened it and in the grave found a bloody hatchet, a suit of clothes with blood spots on them. In the pocket of the coat was a letter. Since that time a young man has been missing from Albany. Whether he is the murdered man or some one else is the mystery. The letter found read as follows:

The Dock says that he will get away with the body and close take it to his barn at 1 o'clock, and leave Jim, as he will want some help. Then you, and Joe, go up to Magnolia and fill up that hole, you dug, then you better bury your own close, if they are bloody, then be careful, for I am suspicious. Burn this when you get it, and send word by the Boy that you got it. Look out and don't get out.

MANY TAX PAYERS HEAR THE REPORT

spent $184,000 when they did not receive but $164,000 all told.

But it is worse than this. Deduct from the last sum the amount expended above receipts during 1888 and 1889, or $18,271.69, and it leaves a balance of $145,728.66. Now that is all the money they could have had with which to build the works and pay the interest for three years on about $159,000 of bonds at six per cent, or $9,540 per year, or $28,620, leaving a balance of $117,108.66.

Now it must be conceded that this covered the cost of the works to Turner, Clark & Rawson unless they lost money in building the plant. And this would show a loss of about $70,000 if the statement of April 8th is true.

We are informed that it is conceded by them that they lost nothing, and the books show that not a dollar of the capital stock was ever paid in, so there was no place for this loss to come from.

We are satisfied that this figure pretty nearly represents the cost of the plant, as we will now submit.

As we said before, one of the best ways to determine which figure is right, would be to get an estimate from practical builders as to the cost in 1887. That estimate shows that these works could have been built for $122,000 with a profit to the builders. We are further influenced in the belief that this figure represents about the cost of the works for the reason that before this plant was built, the city proposed to build a plant of its own, and in pursuance of this plan water commissioners were elected in this city.

These commissioners were B. B. Eldredge, J. J. R. Pease, M. M. Phelps, J. G. Wray and J. A. Dennison. These commissioners employed Edward Ruger as engineer. We are informed that they obtained figures for building works in this city at that time, during the fall of 1886, and that their figures were $122,000, but this included two artesian wells, and two Gaskill Horizontal, compound pumping engines. It did not include a standpipe or reservoir. The pumping engines cost more than the ones in this plant and there was an extra artesian well that would have cost at that time four or five thousand dollars, so the difference would more than make up for the standpipe and reservoir.

We would also call attention to the fact that those works were to be built under the supervision of Edward Ruger and in accordance with his plans, and Mr. Ruger's reputation is such that we feel warranted to say that the works were intended to be of the very highest class throughout in every detail. The commissioners were also satisfied that upon actual bids they could have reduced the figures considerably.

We are further influenced in the belief that those figures are about right by many other proofs. Our city intended to build works and the question came up during the years of 1882 and 1883. The officers of the city obtained estimates upon the cost of the works.

Our charter was amended in 1883 by chapter 350 of the laws of that year. Under that chapter water commissioners were provided for, and the law provided for the issue of "not to exceed $115,000" of bonds.

This sum was then expected to complete the water works in every detail, and would have done so in 1887, as we believe. In other words, we believe the officers of the city at that time set an outside figure upon which to build the water works.

We are further influenced in the belief that those figures are about correct for the reason that builders now estimate that the same works can be duplicated here for less than $100,000 at this time.

Of course it must be conceded that material is somewhat lower.

This then is the situation which confronts us.

The books of the Construction Company show the cost to be less than $130,000, which sum includes traveling expenses, hotel bills, livery bills, office expenses, etc., many items of which doubtless should be disallowed, as for instance traveling expenses in February, 1887 (three months before the franchise was granted by the city), and there are other items which would require much explanation.

Then we have the figures that practical builders now say the works could have been built for in 1887, including a profit to the builder, that is, $122,000.

We also have the fact that our water commissioners could have built these works, as hereinbefore explained, at that time for $122,000.

We also have the fact that the figures show that Turner, Clark & Rawson received from the works, including all sources, only the sum of $117,728.66, and we would here call attention to the fact that Turner, Clark & Rawson were practical water works builders, and therefore should have been able to build works cheaper than any public board.

And we also have the fact that in 1883 our city officers estimated the cost of complete works, and that they would not exceed, in any event, the sum of $115,000.

And we also have the fact that these same works could be duplicated today for about $100,000.

It would seem to us that this array would amount to a demonstration that these works never cost any such sum as claimed by the company.

But we have also another line of facts which amounts to a moral demonstration that the cost of these works has been grossly misrepresented. We have the notorious fact that as water works were constructed all over the United States by private companies, they were, in almost every case, bonded for enough to pay for the works, pay a profit to the builders and pay a profit to the promoters of the scheme in obtaining the franchise, etc. This is so well known and has been so frequently demonstrated in the case of other cities which have had trouble with private water companies, that we think that no one would have the hardihood to deny but that this was the plan upon which the water works schemes, as a rule, were based.

With this plan in mind on August 1, 1887, the Janesville Water company made a mortgage to secure $175,000 worth of bonds. Now in no event could there be more money gotten out of the works than this sum. In other words, this $175,000 would have to build the works, and out of it Turner, Clark & Rawson would be compelled to get the profit which they expected from carrying on the scheme.

Of this sum only about $159,000 was issued prior to 1889 and only $164,000 was issued prior to December, 1891. Notwithstanding this the company now claims that the cost was over $184,000 or more than $20,000 above the entire issue of the bonds.

Turner, Clark & Rawson, remember, paid in no stock money, and afterwards sold the entire stock for $5,000.

Where did this $20,000 over and above the amount of the bonds come from?

Who lost the $20,000? The builders took $5,000 for all of the stock in 1891 and claimed to have made a profit on the deal.

Some of the buyers of that stock sold out a few months later on a basis of $20,000 for the entire stock, which was certainly a good profit, and lately a stockholder has sold about a quarter interest in the stock on a basis of about $40,000 for the entire stock, which was certainly a good profit.

Where is the man who lost the $20,000?

Not only $20,000 must have been lost, but, in addition to this, it will be remembered, that out of this $164,000 of bonds there was only realized about 90 per cent., or that there was a discount of $16,000, so that the loss must have been at least $36,000.

Where is the man who lost the $36,000?

Does any one think that if the work had been costing $184,000 and more than that when the $159,000 of 6 per cent. bonds were issued that they would have been sold at the discount of ten per cent.?

Does any one think that if the works cost over $184,000 that the builders would not have issued the full amount of $175,000 of bonds?

Further, this $164,000 of bonds were not all really sold. That is in December, 1891, Mr. Turner, of Turner, Clark & Rawson, held $5,000 of these bonds, so that only $159,000 had been put upon the market, and it must be remembered that this $159,000 of bonds would realize about $41,000 less than the now alleged costs of the works.

Where is the man who lost the $41,000?

Mr. Turner sold these $5,000 of bonds a little later at seventy-five cents on a dollar.

Does any one think that Mr. Turner, whose firm must have already lost $36,000 in this transaction, would sell at seventy-five cents on the dollar bonds on a good water works that cost all the way from $185,000 to $432,000 to build, and which were only bonded, including his own bond, to $164,000?

These five bonds were afterwards bought by the present owners at eighty cents on a dollar.

Does it look reasonable that men who knew about the inside workings of these companies would sell bonds at seventy-five and eighty cents on a dollar if they didn't know that the works were bonded for thousands upon thousands of dollars more than they cost?

Would Boston capitalists be selling 6 per cent. bonds for 10 per cent. discount when they were putting money from their pockets into a scheme upon which these bonds were liens?

Is it not apparent that every person connected with this transaction knew that the works were bonded for thousands of dollars more than they cost, and for that reason the bonds were not of face value?

Doesn't it look more as though the thought running through the minds of the builders was about as follows:

The works will cost about $115,000; we want to make a profit of $25,000; we will have to sell our bonds at a discount of about $17,000, making a total sum to be provided for of $157,000.

They actually issued $159,000 of bonds, and the rest of the bonds were to be left in the treasury to be used in making extensions. These figures balance within $2,000, and we believe are substantially correct.

In view of all these proofs presented to us, it seems that this is the most plausible position that can be taken. But there are other and even more conclusive proofs.

Your committee has seen a statement issued by the Janesville Water Company under date of June 18, 1892, to the bondholders, in which the company says: "As nearly as we can estimate, the cost to duplicate plant at the present time would be in the neighborhood of $150,000." They then proceed to depreciate the value of the works so as to induce the bondholders to reduce the interest upon the bonds from 6 to 5 per cent.

They tell the bond holders that their bonds are worth seventy-five cents on the dollar because the works can be built for less than they are bonded for.

It will be recollected that during the years 1888 and 1889, about $15,000 of extensions were put into the works and some extensions made in 1890 and 1891. Yet notwithstanding all these extensions, the Janesville Water company deliberately said that the plant in June 18th, 1892, could be duplicated for $150,000. If with $20,000 of extensions the works could have been duplicated for $150,000, then certainly the original cost did not exceed $130,000. They say further in their communication to the bondholders that the plant then consisted of fifteen miles of pipe instead of thirteen miles and could be duplicated for $150,000.

This is the statement of the Janesville Water company on June 18th, 1892, when they wished to run down their bonds, and on August 3rd, 1894, they filed a statement sworn to, that the original works cost $310,000.

In this same statement to the bondholders they return the income of the works at $16,409.83 gross. Your committee have seen a statement in the hand writing of one of the officers of the company, purporting to have been made by two of the officers of the company, which gives the gross income of the works at $22,080 per annum.

In the mortgage given by the Janesville Water company to secure these bonds, the company agreed to establish a sinking fund commencing with the 1st of July, 1892, and deposit with the Trust company 4 per cent of the aggregate amount of the bonds issued, with which to take up the bonds when due.

In the statement made by the company to the bondholders it is represented that the company is unable to do this because of the small income and because the works are evidently overbonded. They say this themselves. This is their language: "We will fund the entire present issue of the bonds at seventy-five cents on a dollar, which will permit us to put on the improvements mentioned (they have before this set out that certain improvements were required in the works and certain pipe extensions) and bring the value of the works up to about the present bonded indebtedness, or we will buy the entire issue of bonds at seventy-five cents on the dollar."

It will be remembered that "the present bonded indebtedness" is $164,000. Seventy-five cents on the dollar of this sum would be equal to $123,000. This is the value of the works placed by the stockholders of the Janesville Water company on June 18th, 1892, when there were fifteen miles of pipe in. This included all extensions. We believe that this statement to the bondholders is very nearly the truth. These same stockholders on August 31, 1894, make a sworn statement that the works up to 1888 had cost to build $310,000.

To put this in another way, they say in this communication to the bondholders, that the pipe extensions now being urged on the city council would come to about $32,000, and the additional improvements would cost about $10,000, making $30,000 all told.

The "present bonded indebtedness" on June 18th, 1892, was $164,000. They say that it will take an expenditure of $30,000 "to bring the value of the works up to about the present bonded indebtedness." Take $30,000 from $164,000 would leave $134,000, or the outside value of the works on June 18th, 1892, with fifteen miles of pipe. Does not every fact in the history of this transaction show that this company have deliberately made false entries in their books and have filed false statements as to its cost.

Your committee have learned of another fact that we feel it important that you should know. The fact we are about to present has just come to the knowledge of your committee and to the knowledge of the attorneys for the city. It seems that about August 3, 1894, a statement was made by the Janesville Water Company, which was filed with the city clerk, sworn to by W. G. Maxcy, president, which shows that the net cost of the works July 1, 1894, was the sum of $432,817.96. This statement, we are informed, was presented to the secretary of the company for his signature. The presentation was made by the president of the company. The secretary thereupon declined to sign the statement, stating to the president of the company that the statement was false in every particular, and that they both knew it was false, and that he, the president, filed any such statement as that, there would be trouble. The secretary further stated to the president that they both knew about what the cost of the works was, and that he, the secretary, would decline to sign any such false statement. The president's reply was that the secretary lacked backbone.

We find that some of the same officers of this company have made since 1891 three statements of the cost of these works. No two of these statements agree within many thousands of dollars, and in one instance hundreds of thousands of dollars. When they wanted to deal with bondholders they placed the value at about $133,000. When they place the figure at which the city may buy, they say $432,000. When public indignation shows that they have taken a dangerous position, they lower this a few hundred thousand, but still keep it high enough so they think they will prevent the city from purchasing. Did they tell the truth to the bondholders? Can these gentlemen explain these three points?

They state in writing June 18th, 1892, that the works are worth $123,000; that it would take $30,000 expenditures to make them worth about $164,000. They swear in August, 1894, that the original thirteen miles cost $310,000. In April, 1895, they say the cost was $185,000 and they say on April 8th, 1895—"The collection of these vouchers has been the first information to the present owners of this plant of the original cost of the plant." It seems to us they must have had some kind of information on June 18th, 1892, when they figured it out to the bondholders at $123,000. Did the officers of the company in August, 1894, deliberately make, swear to and file a statement which they knew to be false?

We deem it but fair to state here that since the spring of 1892 the stockholders of the Water company were W. G. Maxcy, who owns one-half of the stock and who is president of the company, C. S. Jackson who owns one quarter of the stock and who is treasurer of the company, and G. G. Sutherland who did own one quarter of the stock and was secretary of the company. Mr. Sutherland we understand, was opposed to the misrepresentations heretofore set forth, and was violently opposed to the policy pursued by the other officers.

On April 3rd, 1894, W. G. Maxcy wrote to Mr. Sutherland complaining that Mr. Sutherland was not acting in harmony with the other owners in reference to the oppressing water consumers in this city and carrying out the various schemes of the company. The letters says that the majority was against Mr. Sutherland. It is apparent that the other owners felt that it was going to be difficult to carry out their schemes with Mr. Sutherland in the company. The letter ends with "unless we can act in harmony in the handling of the company it will be better for one or the other to get out." Mr. Sutherland got out.

You will remember that the franchise under which those water works were built said "Any false or unjust entry in said accounts (meaning the account of the cost, etc.) made with fraudulent intent under this contract shall vacate and annul the franchise and the privilege hereby granted." In view of all of the false representations and the false, unjust and fraudulent entry, and in view of the numerous misrepresentations, we believe that radical measures should be adopted with reference to this water works system. The action pending is brought to determine the cost of the works. We are inclined to think that the city may not be interested in getting at the exact cost of the works under the circumstances. The franchise of the company should be vacated and the city build works of its own. There have been such grossly unjust and fraudulent books kept by this company, and it has made much gross misstatements of the cost, that we think the courts should be called upon to vacate the franchises without going to the trouble of ascertaining the exact cost.

We find that these works could have been duplicated during the past year for some ninety and odd thousand dollars. Iron has of late advanced some so that the cost would be possibly a little higher, yet we are satisfied that at the outside these works can be duplicated for $115,000. We have seen a communication from Lincoln, Nebraska, showing their works to have cost $110,000 in 1884 and 1885. Iron is cheaper now than it was then. They have thirteen miles of main pipe and have two compound duplex engines with standpipe, etc., and have with that direct pressure, which is a more expensive system than this one. From all we can learn, it is safe to say that we can duplicate the works as they exist in the City of Janesville today for such a sum. This would be just and equitable as between the people and this company. It is a matter of vital importance that the city should own its own water works. Our payments to the Water Company are increasing every year. If the city got the same rates for water that this company gets, we could pay the running expenses, interest and percentage of sinking fund, and get our fire protection for nothing, or the water works would almost support our fire outlay, which is becoming yearly a greater burden to our taxpayers. The present water consumers can be readily connected with the city pipes at the expense of the city, or the city can furnish water consumers with water at much less rates, such as is being done in Madison and other places where the city owns the works, and furnish our city with water without expense. There are also many weak points about this system. Some of the pipes will have to be enlarged at once to give the city proper fire protection. These are matters that must be taken into consideration while upon this subject. While of course any one who bought bonds upon these works would buy them subject to all rights of the city, and if the company did things which would vacate the franchise the bondholders would have to accept the consequences the same as the company, yet possibly some of the bondholders may be innocent investors. The bondholders have rights as against the company, and possibly they would be disposed to treat the people fairly. While steps should be taken simply to vacate the franchises with a view to the city building proper works of its own, yet during that proceeding it might be well for a committee to confer with the bondholders as to what could be done in their and the city's interest. This to be done on the full understanding that the city in no way shall be deemed to waive any of its rights or excuse any violation of the franchise or excuse any wrong committed.

CAMPBELL IS ANXIOUS

Campbell of Ohio still looks round complacently as the one "good western democrat," his party seems able to produce. Even Campbell has nothing solid under his boom. His chance depends altogether on the run he makes for governor this year. If he cuts down the republican plurality to 25,000 or 30,000 he will be the logical candidate next year. If he reduces it to 18,000 or 20,000 he will sweep the convention. Whitney is the most promising of all the aspirants recently mentioned, but if Campbell shows up well in this year's contest the Whitney movement amounts to nothing. Campbell is the only man now before the public who has any prospect of breaking the power of the New York dynasty. If he should be beaten by 40,000 or 50,000 and thus ruled out of the list of availabilities. New York's supremacy in democratic-national conventions, which has already lasted nearly a third of a century, will be maintained four years longer. This is one of the considerations which will give the candidate in 1895 an interest for the entire country.

WE DON'T WANT WAR.

Nobody in this country cares enough for Cuba to make war on Spain. Therefore annexation is not a question of practical politics. If Cuba achieves separation, however, the case will be decidedly different. Then every American will be for annexation if the Cubans want it.

The English papers remark solemnly that annexation "would be regarded with little favor by British statesmen." This is not of the slightest consequence to this country. British statesmen regarded the annexation of Florida and of the Mexican territory with little favor, but that fact did not deter anybody in this country.

No other European power except Spain will ever be allowed by the United States to take possession of Cuba. If separated from Spain and allowed to stand alone, Cuba might some time become the prey of England, France, Germany or some other great power of Europe. Such an eventuality as that the United States, in self-protection, would interfere to prevent and the prospect of it would be potent in determining the action of the United States toward the island if the island were free.

ARE THEY TRUE TO REED?

The report of a conspiracy against Reed in New England is surprising, but the sort of treachery hinted at is as old as national delegate conventions. Some of the most illustrious men in this country, from Daniel Webster to John Sherman have been the victims of this kind of duplicity.

It is surprising, however, in Reed's case for two reasons: First, the devotion of New England republicans to his candidacy has not been doubted outside of that locality, and, secondly, his chances for getting the nomination have appeared to most republicans all over the country to be as favorable as those of any other candidate.

Two or three weeks ago Senators Hale and Frye asserted that they heartily favored his nomination, and other representative New England republicans, politicians and editors have talked in the same strain.

If this conspiracy is as widespread as the papers appear to think it is Reed's prospects for the nomination are for the time darkened. But it is hard to realize that it is.

If the immense treasury deficit continues until congress meets some method of increasing the revenue must be devised and this will bring embarrassment for both parties. As the republicans have the house they will be compelled to take the initiative in the matter, and when tariff tinkering is started nobody can tell how far it will extend.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

A CASE OF PILES OF EIGHTEEN YEARS STANDING.

Cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate, long standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook, of Bowne, Mich., may be of interest to piles sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says:

I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I had been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind, bleeding, protruding or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, allays irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere. Two sizes, 50 Cents and $1. Sold by all druggists.

BANK BEATS BUNCOS OUT OF $3,000 CASH

JOHN CRAUSE SAVED FROM TWO SWINDLERS.

L. C. Hyde learns of the Use He Intends to Put His Money to and Refuses to Let Him Have It—Sharps Elude the Beloit Police.

Bunco-men had their fingers on $3,000 of John Crause's cash when L. C. Hyde, the Beloit banker, interfered. Crause still has his cash, but has lost faith in strangers.

The man came out to his farm to buy it. While he was looking it over a "Texan" came along and asked for a chew of tobacco. He explained casually that he had fallen heir to $10,000 in the Lone Star and that with the money in the valise he carried he was on his way to New York to present their mother's share to his niece and nephew there. He told of being buncoed out of two hundred dollars at Chicago, and displaying a pack of cards illustrated the working of the game. Both the prospective buyer and the farmer became interested and at the close of the Texan's recital the former thought he could work it on the Texan again and was willing to back his supposition with a square meal.

Corner of the Joker Bent. The game consisted of picking the joker from a shuffled deck. The cards were handed over and while the Texan looked another way the would-be farm owner found the joker and bent it so as to render it distinguishable without a sight of its face. The Texan then tried to select the joker but failed and lost the square meal. He suddenly seemed to become very much incensed at being beaten again so he angrily offered to put up $10 which was also won by the prospective farmer. At this the Texan's anger arose to a fury and he swore that rather than give in he would rather put up the entire contents of his valise which he opened and it was apparently filled with greenbacks. The farmer's companion did not have $10,000 to cover the value of the valise but said he had $5,000 which he and intended to invest in the farm and had $2,000 more in Beloit; that if the farmer would add $3,000 to make it $10,000 he would bet.

Farmer Went for His Cash. To this the farmer unthinkingly agreed, but before the Texan would allow the cards to be cut he demanded that the money be shown. The supposed buyer opened a fat wallet and produced his $5,000. The farmer, however, said that he would have to draw his from the bank and would do so. The Texan was requested to put up $100 as guarantee that he would wait, and Farmer Crause, accompanied by his friend, journeyed to this city where on a back street the quasi farm buyer waited for the farmer to return from the bank. He seemed to forget for a moment that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" for at the bank the simple farmer met with a protector in the shape of a banker. Mr. Hyde questioned the farmer as to the intended disposition of his money, and finally learned the story. He then refused to let Mr. Crause have the money, and the farmer's eyes were opened. The pair of swindlers got away together, Marshal Appleby not being notified until too late.

A. O. H. HAD A BIG PICNIC.

Rev. J. B. Corrigan of Chicago Makes An Eloquent Address.

This was the day when members of Division No. 3, A. O. H. stepped high and wore shamrock in their button-holes. The picnic up the river drew a crowd and the crowd in its turn inspired speakers and singers and dancers and runners, so there was a big time all around. Dean E. M. McGinnity was the president of the day and made the opening address. There was a stirring address by Rev. J. B. Carrigan of Chicago, a song by D. D. Bennett, an address by Rev. Father Lillis of Doyleston, music by the Janesville Drum Corps, an address by Rev. Father Nichols of Elkhorn, more martial music and then the platform was cleared for jig dancing, break downs and reels. A tug-of-war between a city team composed of Sheriff Appleby, Dr. E. D. Roberts, Officer Hogan, Dennis Morrissey, J. T. Brown and James Smith and a country team composed of John Lavin, John Wixom, Will Malone, Will Davis and the Campion brothers helped round out the afternoon. There were bun-eating, matches, potato races, greased pole climbing and a fat man's race to afford a taste of fun.

RUNAWAY HORSE FOUND HERE

Blood-Marked Broncho Gallops Down Milton Avenue This Morning.

A runaway broncho marked with blood, dashed down Milton avenue this morning and was caught. A farmer identified it as one of a team owned by L. Hardell, four miles from Evansville. The fragments of a double harness that remained on it told of a lively run.

Later it was found the horse was a new one lately bought by Stewart A. Chase. Mr. Chase and Collie Samuels drove out in the country this morning to try the team, which had never been hitched up before. The horses became uncontrollable, and jamaged the buggy considerably. Neither of the occupants were hurt.

Isn't it a rather "cheap trick" to get possession of an old last-spring "Stetson cut," erase the "spring of '95" therefrom, print "John B. He may be "smart," but he wasn't smart enough to get Stetson's hat agency for Janesville, and we are hoping he won't be smart enough to "do" us, because we are selling nice new style Stetson hats every day. MONTEREY WATER TO BE MEASURED

JUDGE BENNETT RULES ON THE DISPUTE.

Temporary Wing Dam to be Removed and Measuring Apparatus Put In—Flowage Estimated at 9,574 Inches—All the Power Owners Contribute Toward Repairs.

Hereafter water used by the Monterey mills must be measured on the basis of a four foot head. This is the decision made by Judge Bennett in the suit of J. E. Ellis and the Janesville Woolen Mills against the Janesville Cotton Mills et al. As soon as preparations for the measurements are begun the wing dam erected by cotton mill owners must be removed.

The flow in the Monterey power is estimated at 9,574 square inches. All the power owners are ordered to contribute, according to the number of square inches of water they use, toward the rebuilding and keeping in repair of head race and tail race. The woolen mill has no use for the head race and the cotton mills have no use for the tail race, so the question of repairs has always been in doubt.

B. B. Eldredge and William Ruger represented the plaintiffs in the action and Sutherland & Nolan the defendants.

SAFETY IN THUNDERSTORMS.

Lightning Will Not Strike You If You Wear Your Goloshes.

The one thing which a woman most dreads—barring, of course, a mouse and being out of style—is a thunder shower. Many most estimable women of character and force, who can lead great crusades and revolutionize society, go all to pieces at a clap of thunder, and a good many men, too, for that matter. It is not agreeable to be struck by lightning. Nor is it at all necessary. There is a sure preventative—as sure as it is simple, inexpensive, and always accessible—a pair of rubbers. If a woman will simply put on a pair of rubbers when the lightning begins to flash and the thunder to roar, and will stand on the floor, so that she touches nothing else, she will be as safe as if she were sealed in a glass cage. Rubber is a nonconductor of electricity, and if the lightning has to go through a sheet of rubber to get you it will leave you alone and take something else. In other words, when you have on a pair of rubbers, and not in contact with anything, you are perfectly insulated. This is not a theory merely; it is a fact proven by innumerable experiences. A pair of rubbers has saved many a life in a thunderstorm. Only a little while ago Horace W. Folger of Cambridgeport, Mass., was on a pilot boat in Boston harbor, when a thunder shower came up. He was on deck, wearing rubber boots, but steadying himself with one hand by a wire cable from the main topmast. Lightning struck the topmast, shivering it into splinters. Down the cable went the current. Folger was knocked unconscious. When he recovered he was full of aches and pains, but he pulled through. If it had not been for the rubber boots the current would have passed entirely through him. As it was, the current could not get through his boots, so it passed down the cable. It might be well to add that a pair of rubbers, to be effective against lightning, must be sound and whole. Do not put on an old pair, with a crack in the toe, because electricity will get out of a very small hole when it is cornered, and a pair of defective rubbers will do you no good.

Effects of Alcohol.

A distinguished specialist, says the American Practitioner, has carefully noted the difference between twelve families of drinkers and twelve families of temperate persons during twelve years, with the result that he found that the twelve drinking families produced in those years fifty-seven children, while the temperate ones were accountable for sixty-one. Of the drinkers, twenty-five children died in the first week of life, as against six on the other side. The latter deaths were from weakness, while the former were attributable to weakness, convulsive attacks, or oedema of the brain and membranes. To this cheerful record is added five who were idiots; five were so stunted in growth as really to be dwarfs; five, when older, became epileptics; one, a boy, had grave chorea, ending in idiocy; five more were diseased and deformed, and two of the epileptics became, by inheritance, drinkers. Ten only of the fifty-seven showed during life normal disposition and development of mind and body. Fifty of the children of temperate families were normal in every way.

A Pacific Log Raft.

The latest big log raft experiment on the Pacific coast has proved a great success, the first entire success in the history of such attempts. The raft was built on the Columbia river, and contained between six and seven million feet of lumber. It was made of piles so closely bound together that not a timber in the whole great bulk was movable. The raft was started from Oregon late in July, in tow of the steamer Mineola, and arrived in San Francisco Aug. 2, after as smooth a trip as though it had floated down a placid river instead of over a considerable stretch of the Pacific ocean. It would have taken several score of ships to transport the lumber, and the owners of the raft have cleared something over $22,000 by the success of the experiment. Several similar rafts have been started on a similar trip, but while one or two have been a modified success, several of the largest have gone to pieces in stormy weather and been a total loss.

An American Pleasure Condemned.

The London Saturday Review is unkind in its comments on the great attraction of the Midway. Speaking of the unfortunate accident to the Ferris wheel at the Indian exhibition in London the other night, by which a large number of persons were suspended like Mahomet's coffin in midair for several hours, it observes: "We do not pity them overmuch. Those who can find pleasure in slowly revolving in air would look upon a kaleidoscope as a form of art. The soullessness of these American amusements is appalling. The switchback railway and the great wheel testify to a depth of vulgar stupidity that would have astonished the builders of the tower of Babel."

An Ohio River Stone 300,000 Years Old.

A prominent geologist, who has been looking into the formation of the bed of the Ohio river, forty-three miles below Pittsburgh, says the old river bed is 300 feet above the present water level, and he finds three stones of Canadian granite, whose nearest home now is on the Canadian side of Lake Ontario. In the glacial gravel he came across a rough arrow head, which he attributes to the glacial period, perhaps 300,000 years ago. The testimony of the rocks is in the nature of sensational news, in spite of its great antiquity.

CONNUBIALITIES.

Married life is simple. If the husband will praise his wife's dress, and she feeds him well, there will be no bother.—Adams Freeman.

An Alabama judge has decided that if a man puts his arm around the waist of a marriageable woman it is prima facie evidence that he has proposed to her.

In Corea an unmarried man is treated as a boy, no matter how old he is. A young married man of 20 is by Corean custom entitled to be treated as a superior by old bachelors of 60.

Seven cases are reported in England during the present century where the bride has been married to the best man by mistake. The paper giving the information does not state how matters were remedied.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manuel, of Kennebunkport, Me., celebrated their diamond wedding on Tuesday, having been married seventy-five years, as the town records show. Mr. Manuel is 98 years of age, and his wife is two years his junior.

A writer in Paris says with startling frankness: "I cannot conceive why any one should get married; divorce here has made the matrimonial tie so lax." And we thought that sort of thing was confined to Chicago!

"And you said Dodkins is married?" "Yes." "Why, I thought he hadn't a cent of money." "He hadn't. But he's all right now. The young lady has any quantity of cash. All he will have to do now is to clip the coupons off the bonds of matrimony."—Washington Star.

The Rev. Robert Collyer, formerly of Chicago, officiated the other day at a wedding ceremony in New York, from which the word "obey" was omitted by common consent. He explained afterward by saying women never did obey, despite their promises. "The very best woman in the world promised to obey me," he said, "but she never has."

Here's a story going the rounds of the Broadway (New York) hotels: A bashful benedict told the clerk before registering he was a newly-married man and a stranger, and didn't know how to announce the fact of his arrival in town with his bride. The clerk told him to put it down as man and wife. He did so, and registered as "Man and Wife, Beaver Falls, Pa."

MILKED BY A SERPENT.

Eight Kansas Bovines Sucked Dry by a Monster Bull Snake.

A strange snake story comes from Harvey County, Kansas. It is told on the evidence of two reputable citizens—A. L. Bartlebaugh, a prominent grain buyer, of Newton, and J. W. Miller, a Dunkard farmer, of Wanton. Mr. Miller has lost eight fine cows as the result of the strange freak of the monster bull snake that has fattened from the milk he has sucked from the udders of Mr. Miller's herd. For several weeks the farmer has noticed that his cows have come up to the barnyard occasionally in an excited condition. One of them was invariably without milk, and its bag was badly swollen and inflamed. The cow in a few hours would die apparently in great agony. Mr. Miller, after losing eight cows, determined to learn the cause of the trouble.

One day he noticed that one of the cows was racing madly about the pasture at a terrible rate and in a state of great excitement, which was soon felt by all the other cattle in the field. Approaching the cow, Mr. Miller saw a monster bull snake, eight feet in length hanging to the teat of the animal with a grip that was not to be shaken by the frantic efforts of the thoroughly frightened bovine. As the cow plunged on the snake was rapidly absorbing the milk from the udder. When the last drop had been sucked away the snake dropped off, and Mr. Miller killed it. The body of the monster has been preserved in alcohol and will be donated to the museum of the State University at Lawrence. Since he killed the snake Mr. Miller has lost no more cows.

CARRIED ALOFT BY A KITE.

Winona Man Dropped Into the Mississippi and Rescued.

Winona, Minn., Special: C. W. Barber, a young man of this city, is the hero of an adventure which came near resulting in his death. Mr. Barber finished making a gigantic kite, 8 feet in height, and this afternoon was flying it on the river bank. There was a high wind, and after the kite had gotten well up in the air it became unmanageable. In order to handle it better Barber tied the string, brown wrapping twine, around his body. Just as he did so a gust of wind caught the kite, and it gave a tug which lifted Barber from his feet and pulled him into the air. Higher and higher he went, and in less time than it takes to tell it was over the river, about 200 feet in the air, the kite then being almost over him. Barber's weight was now too much for the kite to sustain, the gust of wind having passed over, and the young man began to drop slowly to the Mississippi, which at this point is nearly a mile wide. He struck the water with a splash, but was kept up by the kite until a boatman could rescue him.

World's Coffee Yield.

The near approach of the end of the coffee crop season, 1894-95, suggests a speculation of the world's yield, which placed at about 12,000,000 to 12,250,000 bags, say 6,750,000 bags of Rio and Santos (Brazilian), and all other, 5,250,000 to 5,500,000 bags. This is the more striking in view of the fact that while aggregate exceeds the largest previous yield (1891-92) by about 500,000 bags, prices show a much higher range. The quantity of coffee required from Santos to meet the world's consumption was well demonstrated in 1893-94, as with a total of only 4,300,000 bags from Rio and Santos, the world's visible was reduced less than 100,000 bags, the yield from the outside crops having sufficiently compensated for the apparent shortage. With 50,000 bags this season from Rio and Santos, the United States deliveries have so far about equaled those of last year, but in Europe deliveries are 500,000 bags larger, and yet the world's visible increases about 1,000,000 bags. Whether the increase in European deliveries for the past year means a larger consumption or an excess of supplies to the interior remains to be seen. The firm named think that the direct importations for the interior trade in Europe during the period of large crops is the principal reason for this.
